Edwards Beats Hunt 325-157 in Run-Off

Stanley Edwards, 4 Forestway, won the remaining seat on the city council in the "run-off" election held last Tuesday, by defeating his opponent, Jane Hunt. Edwards' victory came after counting of votes disclosed Edwards received 325 to Hunt's 157. He will join the four councilmen who won in last week's election: Mayor Tom Canning, James Smith, Alan Kistler and Ben Goldfaden.

An "organization" meeting will take place Monday at 7 p.m. in the council chambers for the swearing in of councilmen and the election of a mayor and major pro-tem. Canning will probably receive the nod again for the top post, having received the most votes in the election.

The "run-off" election disclosed a light vote; only 576 compared to the 971 in the original election. Edwards narrowly missed being elected in the first election, needing only nine votes for the majority required to be seated.

A precedent established in the council is to seat members according to seniority around the table. Those with the longest consecutive service are seated nearest the mayor. Edwards has never served on the council before.

Among the items of city business to confront the new council will be: selection of a city planning committee, plans for a referendum on a bond issue to finance the new civic center, and in November work on the 1958 city budget will begin.

There will also be a prize for the runner coming closest to the secret time. Contact the recreation office if you wish to enter. Who knows? You may be a future Browning Ross!

Griffins Auto Club Members Give Blood

By Leslie Robinson

Almost the entire membership of the Griffins Auto Club, an organization of young men who are very fond of automobiles, offered to give blood at the bloodmobile when it was in Greenbelt recently, according to the club's secretary, Bob Nelson of 45-L Ridge Road. The club levied a $5 fine against each member who did not show up.

Some members who are less than 18 years old were not allowed to give blood. Those who were 18 to 21 had to return home for their parents' consent before giving blood.

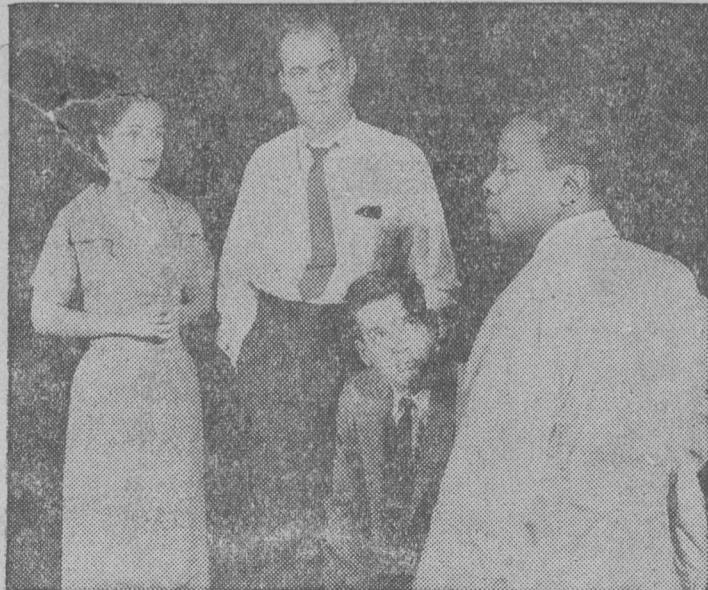

Among the Griffins that gave blood were Dick Day, Bill Dunn, James Drake, Weldon Drake, Dick Longworth, Ted McCord, Bob Nelson, Donald Patterson, Frank Santora, Andrew Weedon, and Ronald Yee.

The Griffins Auto Club, which is dedicated to safety on the road, meets in a 2-car-garage clubhouse in Berwyn. The activities of the club include hay rides, auto shows, drag racing, and rebuilding cars for drag racing.

CERAMICS CLASS

Several openings are available in the Ceramics Class of the adult education program carried at High Point High School. Mrs. Donald Romer of Greenbelt will conduct the class. Enrollment is five dollars. Classes will be from 7 to 9 on Tuesdays and from 8 to 10 on Wednesdays. Those wishing to enter should call Mrs. Romer, GR 3-2437, before next Monday night.

"The Egghead"

"THE EGGHEAD," the new Broadway-bound play by Molly (Mrs. Elia) Kazan, begins a one-week engagement at Washington's National Theatre on Monday evening, September 30. Directed by the famed actor Hume Cronyn, the cast includes (l. to r.) lovely Phyllis Love (who played Gary Cooper's daughter in the film hit "Friendly Persuasion"), star Karl Malden, who is returning to the stage after his Hollywood successes in "Baby Doll," "Fear Strikes Out," "On The Waterfront," and his Academy Award winning performance in "A Streetcar Named Desire." Also shown are featured players Nicholas Pryor and Lloyd Richards.

Loan Association Elects Officers

Twenty-five Greenbelt residents organized the Twin Pines Savings & Loan Association last Wednesday night at Center School. After approving the Articles of Incorporation and the By-laws of the new association, seven members and two alternates were elected to the first board of directors. The directors are R. G. Tugwell, Charles McDonald, Anthony M. Madden, George Reeves, Bruce Bowman, Harry Weidberg, and Mrs. Thomas B. Ritchie. Earl Ogburn and Robert Garin will serve as alternates in the absence of a board member and will replace any resigning member.

Miss Cyrilla O'Connor, Harvey Geller and Joseph Comproni will serve as a Supervisory Committee with George Jones and Leonard Baron as alternates. A Nominating Committee of five members was also chosen: Martin Haker, Robert Hull, James Bates, James Cassels, and Allan Kistler. Vacancies will be filled by the Board.

The organizing meeting of the Board will be held in the City offices, Wednesday, October 2, at 8:30 p.m.

Statement from Owners

In order to clarify their current position in the controversy over pet ownership, eighteen members of the Pet Owners Association have requested that the following statement of appeal to GHI be printed:

"In accordance with your letter of August 30, 1957, giving notification of the Corporation's intent to terminate our Mutual Ownership Contract, in accordance with the action of the Board of Directors at their meeting held Friday, August 23, 1957, we hereby appeal their decision and the decision of the Corporation to terminate our Mutual Ownership Contract.

"This appeal is not to be construed as an admission of the Corporation's right, or the Directors' right to terminate our Mutual Ownership Contract for the reason and under the circumstances set forth in your letter of August 30, 1957, and we reserve our right to pursue such legal action as may be necessary to prevent the illegal termination of our Mutual Ownership Contract and to recover damages therefore."

North End PTA Meets

The North End PTA will hold its first membership meeting of the new school year on Tuesday evening, October 1. The meeting will start at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium of the North End school. After a brief introduction by the school principal, Mrs. Maxine B. Grimm, the meeting will adjourn to the classrooms, where each teacher will explain her program for the coming year to the parents. After the meeting, refreshments will be served.

Before the meeting, the teachers will be guests of the PTA executive board at a get-acquainted supper.

Center PTA Meeting

The Greenbelt Center School Parents & Teachers Association will hold its first meeting of the 1957-1958 season on Tuesday evening, October 1, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Parents and guardians who have not yet registered, their membership may do so by arriving at 7:45 p.m. Dues are 60¢ for one parent and $1.00 for family membership. Main features of this meeting will be the installation of new officers and a visit in the classroom with your child's teacher. Parents and guardians are urged to show their interest in their children by attending. Refreshments will be served.

Architect Outlines Plans, Costs For Remodeling Frame Home Units

By Al Skolnik

Additional details of plans for the remodeling of the North End Store units were disclosed by architect Alfred Kastner at last Friday's special meeting of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. board of directors. Kastner has been hired by the board to renovate the row of four frame units on Laurel Hill rd. as a demonstration project of what can be done to the exterior and interior of frame homes at a minimum outlay.

Cost estimates, scheduled to be presented, were not ready in time, but Kastner thought they would be in the vicinity of the figures mentioned at the last board meeting—about $2500 per unit. One reason for his optimism in keeping costs down was the soundness of the present structure. "The lumber is in surprisingly good condition," said Kastner, "and the framing members are of such sound construction as to require little replacement."

The board, obviously pleased with the preliminary sketches and plans submitted, authorized Kastner to proceed with the working plans and specifications and to obtain exact cost data. Kastner said he would have such data in about 10 days.

One of the major interior features proposed by Kastner was the expansion of the living space area downstairs from 200 to 250 sq. ft. This would be done by (1) creating a combined living-dining area by removing the present wall partition; and (2) relocating the coat closet to a specially-built extension at the entrance of the home, thus eliminating the entrance corridor. "The assembly of doors which is now concentrated toward the front of the house," said Kastner, "would be resolved into an attractive panel arrangement, having louvre type doors as a decorative focal point."

Another major feature suggested was the construction of a 10 foot by 4 foot addition at rear of home to give added utility storage space.

A third feature was the re-designing of the kitchen so as to accommodate a standard size washing machine, a utility cabinet, and a ventilator. The heating pipe with its vulnerable wrapping would be shielded with a simple device which would permit entire or partial insulation.

Upstairs, the plan called for sliding closet doors. To secure further storage space, Kastner suggested that the attic be made accessible through a pull-down stair and attic sub-flooring be added.

For the exterior, the storage projection at the front would be combined with a door overhang and trellis design, the latter for decorative purposes. Cinder block treated with varied-colored silicone would be used for the front extension. Each entrance would have its own walk to the sidewalk and would be partially sealed off from each other through a baffle partition.

In the rear, separate patios would be built for each unit, separated by the storage addition and the baffle partition. The rear entrance would have a covered overhang. "The purpose of this exterior design," Kastner stated, "is to provide some sorely-needed privacy, as well as to break the continuity of the structure."

The only major question raised by board members concerned Kastner's suggestion to use the present asbestos composition for the exterior, after replacing damaged shingles. The board was anxious to explore the adding of a new surface decoration, such as vertical redwood or cedar siding. Kastner felt that such siding would be costly, and that the asbestos shingles would result in a "quite contemporary exterior appearance of excellent proportions." He promised to supply the board with cost differentials for the different types of material.

Other minor changes being considered included (1) examination of heating system to determine if banging of pipes can be eliminated; (2) soundproofing of walls with battening; (3) insertion of vertical studs in walls for convenience in hanging wall items; (4) relocation of electric boxes and fuses on exterior of building, with suitable covering.

Unit Marches in Parade

In recognition of their outstanding performance, American Legion Post 136 sent their Junior Marching Unit to Atlantic City to represent the post in the American Legion National Convention Parade.

Twelve boys, accompanied by eight parents, spent Saturday and Sunday swimming, attending Drum and Bugle competitions, and sightseeing on the board walk. Monday morning was used to good advantage with show polishing, drilling, and even a little swimming before parade time.

The boys did a fine job and put on a good show—so good, in fact, that they were asked to perform their full routine before a movie camera, with the film being sent to Texas to be shown to a Legion Post anxious to organize a similar group.

The boys had a wonderful time and made many new friends (sharing accommodations with the Cheverly Post Jr. Drum and Bugle Corps) and are already planning to attend the convention next year in Chicago, Illinois. This time they hope to enter competition and bring back to Greenbelt the first place award for "Junior Marching Units."

The boys attending were: Chester Confer (who led the unit in the parade), Dee Emmert, Jim Gardner, Jon Garner, Joe Hanyock, Robert Haslinger, Jeff Stevens, Paul Hyland, Joe McNally, Terry Murray, Damon Temple, and Douglas Thompson. They were accompanied by director Ted Pugh, and parents Mr. and Mrs. George Confer, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stevens, and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Thompson.

CUB PACK 746

By Smoky Stover

Last Saturday morning, 22 Cubs from Pack 746 attended a lecture and demonstration given by Mr. Freeman Morgan, president of Greenbelt Gun Club, at the Club Range. Several of the Cubs have expressed a desire to have their own guns and to be members of the Club. Each boy was allowed to shoot the rifle (a .22 target model) and keep the cartridge. We are very happy to have had this experience and wish to thank Mr. Morgan.

Our Pack Meeting was held Monday, September 23. The WEBELOS Den led the Pledge of Allegiance, followed by the song, "We're Glad to Get Together". A fine color movie was shown about "Shooting Safety," demonstrating how to teach young boys and girls to be very careful with a gun.

The following awards were presented: Wolf - Jerry Canaday, Earl Zubkoff, Tommy Fink; Bear - Kenneth Nicholson; Lion - David Morgan; Gold Arrows - Tommy Fink; Silver Arrows - Tommy Wertz, Jerry Canaday, Jeffery Rosen (2), Earl Zubkoff (2), Tommy Fink (2); Denner - Tommy Fink; Asst. Denner - Jerry Canaday, Stuart Kushner, Marc Krug, Jeffrey Rosen, Larry Veisel.

Several songs were sung, and three of the dens had very nice displays.

Mrs. Robinson, 72 Research, was presented with a Den Mother's Pin for her service in the Pack.

All members wishing to register must have their dues in by October 15 to Larry Levine, Treasurer, 18-N Ridge.

Our closing ceremony was led by Mr. Howard Hunt.

UGF WORKSHOP

A work shop, for all who are interested in helping with the United Givers Fund Drive, will be held in the City office on Friday, September 27th, at 8 p.m.

The Dark Marquee

Once again the Greenbelt theater has been forced to curtail its activities—forced by lack of support from local audiences. It seems that Greenbelters cannot or will not patronize the movies in sufficient numbers to warrant a 7-day operation. Henceforth, therefore, the theater will be closed on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays.

There are many reasons why proprietor Jack Fruchtman had to make this hard decision. Part of the reason undoubtedly lies in the fact that our population, at least our movie-going population, is not large enough to support a theater full-time. Part of it, too, lies in the fact that we are unable to attract enough people from outside Greenbelt to contribute to its support. And directly related to that, in the minds of many observers, is the fact that our commercial shopping center is not fully occupied and is not pulling its weight in exerting the necessary attraction. In any event, the fact remains that the movie is hurting—and that as a direct result, the whole community is hurting!

There is no question about the fact that Fruchtman has done everything possible to keep the theater going, even to the extent of directly subsidizing it from the income of his other operations. That he has done so this long is entirely to his credit, and we owe him a vote of thanks for it. But after all, how long could he be expected to lose money here with no expectation of improving the situation? Perhaps the reduced schedule will bring the operation out of the red. Good movies, which he promises, and increased attendance, which we urge, will do it.

Vote of Confidence

Our best wishes and congratulations go to the five civic-minded men who won election to the city council. The four incumbents, by their overwhelming popularity, gained a vote of confidence from their constituents. Their past experience will be invaluable to them.

The assertion that the past council had been "master-minded" by City Manager Charles McDonald fell on deaf ears. There is no doubt, in any interested observer's mind, that the four incumbents were often at odds with each other and that each expressed in their own personal way their rugged individuality. This attribute was endorsed vigorously by the electorate.

However, it was a healthy expression of dissent, and serves to remind councilmen of their duty to be well-informed about items on the agenda before the council meetings. Too often, as Ben Goldfaden admitted during the campaign, the council not only asks the manager for recommendations on some civic problem, but must be filled in on details. This situation needs correction, not only for the council's benefit, but to relieve the manager of the terrific responsibilities laid on his shoulders by the council.

We strongly favor the manager-council form of government, and it would be tragic to sully this system through incompetence, on the part of the council. We earnestly suggest that the new council re-examine the duties and responsibilities of each party—the council and manager. Our community will be much stronger through such an effort.

In her history there was mystery, enchanting and alluring;
In her smile there was guile, deceptively demurring;
From his college he had knowledge of subjects so enlightening
In his gaze dwelt a daze whose effect was truly frightening;
So, she took him by the hand and gently led him past
All the pitfalls and the perils in which his lot was cast.

Librarian's Notebook

By Elizabeth B. Hage

The Prince George's County Memorial Library has swung into its fall schedule in full force. The first book selection meeting of the season with the branch librarians was held this week. The new headquarters building affords a room in which meetings of this nature can be held without interfering with the work of the rest of the staff. Meetings with the branch librarians are scheduled to be held each Tuesday during the coming months.

Did the program planners for your organization attend the program planning clinic organized and conducted by Miss Madeline Evers, Adult Services Librarian of Prince George's County Memorial Library? Over forty people were present to learn about the help available from the Library and to pick up many useful ideas brought out in the film shown and the discussion following led by Mrs. Mildred Phillips, Reader and Information Services Librarian of the staff.

The success of the meeting, the first of its kind attempted by this Library, gives us incentive to plan others of a similar nature on different subjects in the future. If you are interested in such workshops, it will be most helpful if you make your interest known to Miss Evers at WArfield 7-4916 or the librarians at any of the System's branch libraries.

VOLUNTEER NOTES

By Don Pratt

A basic course in fire-fighting was started Monday night in Firemen's Hall. This course is being given under the auspices of the University of Maryland Fire Service Extension. Sergeant Paul Latchford of the Mt. Rainier (Md.) Fire Department is the instructor. This is a 60 hour course, given each Monday from 7:30 to 10:30 for 20 weeks. All interested persons are invited to attend these classes. A pocket card is given for satisfactory completion of the work.

The Fire Department & Rescue Squad is interested in obtaining new members with fire-fighting or first-aid training, and this is a good chance to obtain the fire-fighting training. There will be some class work, a lot of practice training with our equipment, and some work at the University of Maryland's College Park layout. If you are interested in taking this course, we will be looking for you next Monday night. (Firemen's Hall is in back of the fire station, down stairs.) Soft drinks, companionship, and television are available. If you are a stranger, make yourself known to any of the officers, and they will try to make you feel at home.

This Saturday night (September 28) Tom Hennigan and his orchestra are playing for the monthly Fire Department & Rescue Squad dance. This series of dances is for the Equipment Fund. Dancing is from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. This week the Ladies Auxiliary is serving barbecue with cole slaw. This is not only delicious, but will be served at your table. Tickets are $2.00 (couples only). Buy one or more from any of our members, or you can be cheerfully relieved of the two bucks at the door. Engage your baby sitter right now, and call Kenny Robinson if you want reservations for a table, at 7363. If you can't get hold of Kenny, call Bill Hopkins at 9457. In either case, call by Saturday noon. Come down to the American Legion Hall on Saturday night and see what a good time can be had.

There will be an especially interesting display of antique dishes and many other charming mementos of the past. One of the dresses in the show is 107 years old and was worn at a very important gathering at the Woodbury Mansion, which is located near Charlestown, West Virginia; the wedding dresses in this collection date as far back as 1887.

This show should delight all ladies who love antiques and who would like to see what the well dressed belle of yesteryear wore to special social functions.

Another prospective Fireman & Rescue Squadman made his appearance Monday morning at 10 a.m. Thomas Warren Ogden was born at New Providence Hospital at that time. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Ogden, of 10-H Southway, are the proud parents. We asked Eddie the specifications, but the only things he could remember was the net tonnage of 8 pounds, 13 ounces. He didn't give the wheelbase, but did say that the booster tank always seemed full. We are informed that mother and son are doing fine, but the last time we saw Eddie, he seemed a little peaked.

Philpot-Caruso

Carl Joseph Caruso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Caruso, was married to Carole Ann Philpot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Philpot, of Silver Spring, Saturday, September 21. Carl, who graduated from Northwestern High, will complete approximately two years at the Naval Air Station in Sanford, Fla., this November. He has taken his bride with him, and plans to continue his studies in Electronics at the Naval Air Station for another year. The wedding was held in Washington, D. C., and the reception took place in Colesville, Md. A great many gifts were showered on the couple, who are honeymooning towards Daytona Beach and Orlando, Fla.

Polio Story for 1957

Reporting on the poliomyelitis situation in Maryland during 1957 up to September 1, Dr. Edward Davens, Deputy Director, Maryland State Department of Health, said "the picture in our State, which parallels quite closely the experience of the United States, looks most encouraging and a high degree of optimism seems justified."

Up to September 1 of this year, eight cases of paralytic polio have been reported to the State Health Department. This compares with 44 cases for the same period in 1956. For the same period in 1955 the number of cases was 101; with 51 in 1954; 159 in 1953, and 100 in 1952.

The most severe case this year, a 22 year old man who died, had received no vaccine, Dr. Davens said. Of the remaining seven cases, four had received partial immunization of one or two injections and three had received no vaccine. All four children who had received some vaccine suffered mild disease and are expected to have only slight residual disability, he added.

The public is again reminded that poliomyelitis vaccine is strongly recommended. All people under 20 years of age and all pregnant women should have the full protection of three injections of poliomyelitis vaccine. Immunization for poliomyelitis is now recommended by all medical authorities as well as the State Health Department as a routine procedure in the overall health supervision of every child.

To the Editor:

MANY THANKS

TO THE VOTERS:

Many thanks to the voters whose ballots in the city election have made it possible for me to serve on the next city council. I feel that the voters, whether or not they voted for me, certainly merit praise and congratulations for the splendid manner in which they turned out to exercise their precious prerogative to vote. I want also to express my deep appreciation to the other nine candidates for the courteous and the friendly co-operation extended to me personally during the campaign.

Sincerely yours,
Thomas J. Canning

MIDDLE AGE MAUNDERINGS
Ah, how I suffer from lack of success and by odious comparison with those who transgress!
Two score and more of years have I seen, in various countries and in war have I been;
Where is the proof that my life's been well-spent and where the succor that righteousness lent?
Would that I had that which helps one abide the more noisome things one has at one's side!

Miss Jacquelyn Snead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Snead, of Beltsville, became the bride of ENS. Gerald W. Brittingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Brittingham of Greenbelt, on August 11. The military ceremony, held in the Greenbelt Community Church at 4 p.m., was performed by the Rev. Donald N. MacKenzie.
